

JBC | JOHANNESBURG
Bible College

relational studies initiative a Jubilee Centre programme invitation to a Relational Thinking seminar

How Christianity makes sense of Relationships and Relationships make sense of Reality

Monday evening, 18 February 2013, 6:30 pm for 6:45 pm until 9:00 pm

A human being is a person in relationship. This seminar illustrates how Christianity offers the best foundation for understanding political, economic & social relationships, and in turn how relationships offer the most comprehensive explanation for the reality we experience.

Seminar presenter Dr Michael Schluter (CBE) is an economist, relational thinker and social entrepreneur. He is Chief Executive of Relationships Global, promoting the importance and understanding of relational dynamics in areas such as business, family, finance, education, healthcare and the justice system. He has co-authored 'Transforming Capitalism from Within' and 'The Relational Manager' among a number of other books and papers. He is currently establishing a company that facilitates the measurement of stakeholder relationships within and between organisations, and has been developing tools for this purpose over the last 15 years. Michael is an experienced speaker who has addressed audiences all over the world.

Venue: Johannesburg Bible College corner Hampton & Golf Roads Rossmore / Auckland Park
(map at www.jbc.org.za)

Cost: R50 (R20 if unwaged; free if registered for the Certificate in Relational Thinking)

RSVP: by Wednesday 13 Feb to Charlene at 011 830 0820 or info@jbc.org.za